Roadmap to Divine Feminine Ayurveda
What is Divine Feminine Ayurveda?

The human Ātman, soul, desperately wants to be seen. Not necessarily fixed or saved, but simply witnessed and loved unconditionally. Feminine medicine comes through the oral tradition, through community, and through relationships. It’s not entirely taught and learned through a textbook, it’s learned through direct experience and relationship. It’s learned through seeing and listening.

We learn Divine Feminine Ayurveda not through the pre-frontal cortex alone, but through the back of the brain and body as well. This is foundational because it means that we first heal ourselves and learn the healing arts through our own practice of self-love and self-healing. It means digesting the material IN and WITH the body, not just the intellect. The guru is within and without.

There exist a culturally imposed need to be very masculine about our approach to health: What pills, what herbs, what’s wrong with me? With a feminine approach to health, we’re not adding anything, instead we are subtracting what isn’t real anymore, what’s not serving us. Divine Feminine Ayurveda ask us to find the place within our being that is already balanced, that needs nothing else, and begin the process of healing from there first.

Divine Feminine Ayurveda understands that there is no ideal health. That the mind/body complex is never in perfect balance, but always in flux. When we study Shakti, Life Force, we see that she is always shifting and changing. For that reason, she is not reaching for a standard of perfection, but instead concentrating on her own resources of adaptability. Feminine form medicine understands health as your ability to adapt to the changing environment and circumstances of your life. Divine Feminine Ayurveda is subtle.

Write out the definition of AYUR-VEDA, and then define it personally. What is Ayurveda for you? Let your heart’s intuition speak!

______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
________________________

______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________

______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________

Katie Silcox & The Shakti School
KatieSilcox.com
List 3 core values of the feminine principal:

1)____________________________________________________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________

2)____________________________________________________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________

3)____________________________________________________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________

In this practice, what do we let go of?
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________

In this practice, what do we hold dear?
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________

What is Smarana? How is it relevant to the current social movements? To healing?
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________

What does it mean to you to be connected to nature?
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________________
Your Healer’s Journey

Take several minutes to journal here or on separate paper your journey. Then come back and write the most poignant points below. What stands out?
Themes?
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
What’s the connection between Intimacy & Insight? How have you felt it in your life?
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
How does this resonate in your life?
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
______________________________________________________________________
What’s the relationship between self-love & courage? How does that play out in life and in health outcomes?

Sankalpa

A sankalpa is an intention that comes from somewhere ancient in your heart. It is the deepest desire. The one that whispers, not yells. The one that is connected to the Divine Heart. The one that will come true. Must come true. Because it is linked to the Most High.

MEDITATION FOR PREPARING TO RECEIVE THE HEART’S CALL

Light and power cannot flow through tension.

Breathe in and out and find forgiveness in the tension. Stay close to yourself. Release constriction in the mind and body. Forgive everything that is. Bless everything that is occurring as your grand teacher.

As you breathe in, sense awareness and light move from the crown down into the heart.

As you breathe out, fill the heart with presence and light.

Repeat this as the tension melts and forgiveness increases. Forgive yourself. Remember you are the Daughter of the Pearls of Certainty.

Our prayer: Within me there is a light. It is the same light in you. It is the same light in all creatures. Divine light.

It radiates pure wisdom, truth, bliss, and an endless power of will and action. Repeat this until you feel it.
Now ask: What is my deepest heart’s intention? Wait for the answer to be revealed as insight (in-sight). Trust your feelings over your thinking. Write our your Sankalpa here:

_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________
Now imagine that you are already achieving what you long for. Sit with this. Write out your core feelings and values (bhavana, rasa):

________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________

Now choose ONE WORD – How will you feel when the goal is attained?

________________________________________________________________

See yourself merging now with the older successful happy version of yourself that has fully expanded in herself and the life of her dreams.

“Existence is made up of stuff, and that stuff is called Love.” Dr. Vasant Lad

No other person has the unique blend of talents that you have. The world needs healer’s like you, asking questions and bringing forth the tides of progress. Have courage.

With love,
Katie

embrace your wild happy sexy self, aka Your God Body